Topic: Coaching in a corporate environment

Date: Wednesday - May 19

Time: 11am-12pm CST

Presenter: David Bervig, Vice President Human Resources
David C Cook/Integrity Music

David has been in the HR field with several organizations the past 25 years. Coaching employees has been something that just naturally occurred without much thought or a game plan with planned outcomes. In David's experience, most HR organizations tend to focus on compliance and policy and neglect the enormous impact that can have in the development of staff with a coaching first mindset. David has spent the last several years focusing on key leaders in the organization that have a desire to take the next step in the leadership development. The fruit of those efforts have been the middle management and line staff wanting to use internal coaching for their career development. David will take you through his process of setting up the coaching relationship and the ensuing journey.

Topic: Navigating your first 5 years of coaching

Date: Wednesday - June 23

Time: 11am-12pm CST

Presenter: Julie Miles, Women's Leadership Coach, Lead Self Lead Others
leadselfleadothers.com/our-team/

In this webinar, Julie will be taking you on her coaching journey and sharing her best learns and practices from her first 5 years of coaching. She is excited to share with other coaches how she built her business and what she has learned along the way.

Topics include:

Clients - How to start getting clients and building a client base, building excellent systems through trial and error.

Resources - Having a big tool box of great resources, but not one that is so big that it overwhelms you.

Listening - Really listening to your client and taking impeccable notes.

Technology - Fun technology that you may or may not know about yet? Even if you have to spend a few hours learning how to implement them, being able to automate systems and procedures will make your coaching life easier.

Favorites include - Evernote, Zoom, Canva, Voxer, Calendly, Kajabi & A Color Story.

Mastermind Group - Finding a group of like-minded people who challenge you and encourage you to bring excellence to everything you do. A coach always needs a coach and the learns you take away from this type of a group are outstanding.
